Roxio VLP

offers a cost effective way to purchase and standardise Roxio software products for convenient and legal installation on multiple computers. The program is designed for the special needs of business, government organisations, education and charity.

Why should you buy Roxio Volume Licences?

- Reduce costs - VLP licences are less expensive than the retail boxed products and the licence price decreases with the volume. We also offer discounts for Education, Government and Charity organisations.
- Standardise - You maintain, update, upgrade and register only one version of software across the board.
- Distribute - Decide which components you need and roll out over the network (or image disk) using Roxio VLP Media kits.
- VLP versions - We have developed specific versions with limited multimedia features specifically for our high volume corporate users.
